For one period of action photography:           $180 plus GST for a whole game of action photography:       $320 plus GST.

That works out at less than the cost of a single print: under $20 per player across two teams or less than $10 per player if the cost is split between the two teams. Please note that while splitting the cost across two teams is less expensive overall, it does mean that I would need to represent the action from both sides, which effectively brings down the number of "appealing" photographs per team.
